IN THEIR USUAL

... arrogant and selfish way many Americans will let Thanksgiving go by without a thought of saying "Thanks" to God or anyone else for the boundless blessing we enjoy in this country.

Yes, there is poverty, there is prejudice, there is discrimination. You bet we have the rich and we have the poor.

But still we are blessed with an abundance of material wealth, the finer things of life, much more than the people of any country in the world. We are blessed with a freedom of choice in our everyday decisions. Our children are blessed with an outstanding educational system. Everywhere we turn we can find something to be thankful for.

So let us pause at least this week and utter an expression of appreciation to Someone.

A LIST

... of current members of the Hondo Chamber of Commerce is carried in the Anvil Herald somewhere this week and it shows that we have some 30 new members.

But about 60 members who were signed up last year have not yet seen fit to return their membership cards. I bet most of them are just in a stack somewhere. They are not forgotten, but just have not been remembered.

They sure would look nice on that list at Lillian Porter's office. If last year's members who have not signed up will send in their cards that will mean that the personal contact drive slated for December 1 (that's a week from Friday) will be able to reach those who have not been members--but should be.

Things look brighter for Hondo in 1973 with the prospects of two new industries adding to the workforce and payroll. One is the flying training program to be started by Air Training Command in June and the other is the U. S. Bonded Padding Co.

These should whet the enthusiasm of the businessmen and thus give them a feeling that perhaps more effort should be placed on seeking industry and doing other projects that help improve and build the town.

It can be done--with the money coming in from your membership dues.

ONE BIG PROJECT

... accomplished each year by the Chamber of Commerce is the Wild Game Dinner. It comes off Saturday night at the Hondo City Park and promises to be a big one this year.

Anyone who has any kind of meat they wish to donate between now and Friday evening please call Richard Finger at Super Sav if it is dressed. If not call Lillian Porter at 426-2015 and she'll give you the person to call for handling.

DEVINE'S WARHORSES

We would like to add our congratulations to those already expressed on Devine taking the District 28-AA title. We certainly hope they can win them all for a state title.

Randolph won District 27-AA by dropping only one game during the season.

Both teams had to rally for a come-from-behind victory over their opponents last Friday. Randolph overcame a big 22-8 deficit to win 24-22, late in the third Totally well done, well rehearsed, well prepared and well taught by a fine director,"--Galvan.

"What a nice looking band! You show real good pride and spirit. What fine marching is going on here! This is the first band today that has done any work on step, knee lift and carriage. Field surveys slated for creek flooding

Action on the problem of flood prevention in Hondo will take another step forward December 4, 5 and 6 when a team from the Soil Conservation Service will make a field examination on Ball Waterhole Creek.

The team will conclude its visit to Hondo with a public hearing at 1:30 p.m. December 7 in the Hondo City Building.

Any interested person may attend the meeting to express feelings for or against the proposed project.

Examination on the creek, which was responsible for the flooding of some 98 homes in Hondo during the 1971 flood, will study the feasibility of such a project and the work necessary to prevent flooding.

This is another step in a long series of actions initiated last year when the floods hit the city inflicting heavy personal damage to many homes on the east side of Hondo and some in the Kollman Addition.

County Commissioners, Hondo City Council and the Medina Valley Soil and Water Conservation board made application as sponsors to the Federal SCS to make a survey to determine the feasibility of any program to prevent flooding.

Sale nets $165

People liked the sale on Museum plates and county historical sketches--to the tune of some $165.

"We feel we had excellent response from the public at our tables," said John Wentz who was in charge of the sale.

The eight historical sketches can be used as note paper with envelopes, framed for the wall or given as Christmas gifts. They sold for 50 cents per package.

The plates, which feature a colored picture of the old depot, sold for $3.00 each.

"Since the response was so good this past weekend," Wentz said, "we plan to keep the items on sale through Christmas. They will be on sale at the Anvil Herald and other places to be named later, and of course, at the Museum on the weekends."

Sale winners listed for annual event

Winners were announced late Saturday afternoon in the Pre-Christmas Sale event sponsored last weekend by the Hondo Merchants Association.

Library News

Hondo Public Library has been notified by the Texas State Library that its application for a State Grant has been approved, reports Lottie Maw, Librarian. Exact monetary value of the grant has not yet been verified, and notification of this will be sent at a later date.

Richard Getz, field consultant for Texas State Library, conferred with Mrs. Maw recently to discuss library needs and the Federal Revenue Sharing program. According to Mr. Getz, the Hondo Library is entitled to share in the funds provided for this program.

With these two programs and our participation in the Texas Library Systems Act, the library will be in a position to provide more reading and reference material for our members. This, however, does not preclude the fact that the library will always need and welcome contributions from our readers.

In recent weeks many books, paperbacks and magazines have been donated to the library. For instance, Ann Spiker brought us 23 mysteries. Sixteen American International Encyclopedias and one mystery were given by Georgene Deckert.

Other books were donated by Pearl Schmidt and Mrs. Lydia B. Hanna. Paperbacks and magazines were received from Mr. and Mrs. Norman Buescher, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Peden, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Poerner, Dewey R. Verona, the Paul Reddy family, Mrs. O. M. Redus, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Burden, Barbara Weems, Terry Teague, Charlotte Lutz and Mrs. Harold Rieber, Tarpley route.

Members are Leslie Blasing, Laura Carter, Brenda Dugan, Iris Garcia, Rita Sue

Graff, Kimberly Gruber, Lori Fridle, Mary Alice Lange, Cara Modgling, Deanna Shuler, Dana Ward and Robin Ward.

Another recent visitor to our library was Mrs. Helen Murrill of the Castroville Library.

Mrs. Maw announces that the new Doubleday Book Club best-seller now available is Taylor Caldwell's "Captains and the Kings". "The Last Whole Earth Catalog" is new to library shelves, but can be consulted only in the library.

Again, let us remind you to return your overdue books and to use the bookdrop if you can not get to library during regular hours, which are 11:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., Monday through Friday.

During the spring all systems members will select delegates who will meet to elect two members of the six-member Advisory Council to replace the members whose terms are expiring.

Also, Easy Car Wash, Grant's Bar-B-Q Restaurant, George W. Reitzer, Delony Jewelry, Borden's Distg. (Claude Schuehle), Elmer J. Leinweber Sr., Fred Bader, Garrison Ranch, Raye Theatre (Raye Jennings), Lenora Schmidt, Robert Zuberbuehler, Leroy Miller, Bud Woods, George J. Schmidt, Hondo Livestock Auction, John Poerner & Assoc., Hondo Golf Course (Virgil Krenmueller).

Also, Dr. John R. Windrow, Alfred Brucks, State Welfare Adoption Officer (Pat Lawrence), Burnis Lawrence, Hondo Anvil Herald, Universal Rundle, Ward Pope, Southwestern Bell, KRME, Gulf Oil (Olen Wiemers), Wood Insurance, Huesser Gulf Station, Gary Aircraft, Dan's Drug (D. Connally), Lloyd Hermes, Moehring's Hardware, New Frontier Restaurant and Fritz Leinweber.

Donations came from Arthur Rothe, Joe Brucks, Oliver Reinhart and Alfred Wiemers.

Plates given by Leinweber's

Five county citizens are happy about the colorful Museum plates they won at E. R. Leinweber Co. over the weekend.

Ralph Hauger of Leinweber's purchased five of the plates at the sale price of $3 each and held drawings so that five of his weekend customers could win them.

Winning the plates were Delma Tovar, Mrs. E. Preciado, Mrs. J. E. Shows and Sophia B. Dominguez, all of Hondo; and Elias Gauna of P. O. Box 51, Yancey.

Hondo residents had picked up their plates by early Monday morning and each one was "thrilled at winning and happy to have a plate." The Yancey winner had not picked up a plate by Monday.

The Thanksgiving Day game will be televised by ABC-TV, with an 8:05 p.m. (CST) kickoff.

Synonymous with extreme precision and mind-bendingly intricate formations, the Texas Aggie Band has won wide viewer approval. They label the TAMU band as "thunder and blazes under tasteful restraint" and "reminiscent of marching Roman legions."

The military organized band marches 288 Army, Air Force and Naval ROTC cadets in ranks 12 men wide and files 24 men deep. Three drum majors coordinated field movements.

Lt. Col. E. V. Adams, dean of Southwest Conference bandmasters, directs the Aggie Band. Maj. Joe T. Haney helps devise drills and composes music.

The Texas game drill will be the Aggie Band's ninth of the 1972 season. Its members have fielded a halftime-winning performance every Saturday since the A&M-LSU game at Baton Rouge, La., on Sept. 23.

Collier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Collier, Sr., 1604 Ave. Y, is a freshman aerospace major at TAMU and plays the cornet in the Aggie Band. He is a graduate of Victoria High School.

Gilliam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Herring, 1405 24th, plays the bass horn and is a freshman electrical engineering major at A&M. He is a 1972 graduate of Hondo High School.

Mrs. Michael W. Mann

Miss Marie Rose Isbell and Michael William Mann were united in marriage Saturday evening, November 18, 1972 at Christ Episcopal Church in San Antonio. The Reverend Kevin Ryan and the Reverend Maurice Benitez officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Garnett T. Isbell and Mr. and Mrs. Horace W. Mann of San Antonio. Michael is the grandson of Mrs. D. G. Mann of Hondo.

The bride was lovely in an A-line gown of white slipper satin with pearls and rhinestones edging the Mandarin collar and long bell-shaped sleeves. She wore a mantilla of white illusion trimmed with lace. Her bouquet was a nosegay of white carnations and rosebuds with green satin leaves and white satin streamers.

Miss Patricia Lynn Wilson was maid of honor and Dennis Regan served as best man. Miss Wilson wore a gown of dark purple velveteen and carried a nosegay of pink carnations with purple satin ribbons.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Isbell wore an ensemble of gold and beige brocade, while the bridegroom's mother chose a lovely blue knit dress.

A reception dinner was held at the Club El Pocoloco. For their honeymoon the couple chose a ski trip to Albuquerque and Cloudcroft, New Mexico.

They are at home in San Antonio where Michael is teaching at Bexar County School for the Deaf.

Aelvoet sisters take wins

The Aelvoet sisters, Jeanette and Mariette, know how to cook with carrots and proved it at the South Texas All Vegetable Day in San Antonio.

Jeanette won first with her carrot cake and Mariette took second place with her carrot cooking.

Hondo Thursday Nov. 23

This week

All she wrote

by Edna McDade

According to one Thomas Hood (1798-1845) November is a "no" month ... "No sun - no moon - no morn - no noon ..." etc.

With our traditional (until the date-juggling powers decree otherwise) Thanksgiving due to be observed on Thursday of this week, it might be well for over-enthusiastic appetites to be reminded: No 2nd-3rd-& 4th helpings of turkey, dressing, mince pie etc.

In case you weaken, and do it on burp-ose, you can repent at leisure until the next seizure.

November is also designated (by the Texas Agriculture Commission) as Texas Food & Fiber Abundance Month. Abundance of both commodities in our state entitles every Texan to all the extra bragging he can do.

The local Future Farmers and 4-H Clubs sponsored an impressive display of their special projects in the big Padre-Staples Mall where it was attracting public interest.

One pen held a beautiful lamb but I can't tell you the breed as about all I know about lambs is that Mary had a little etc. etc.

A very small boy was fascinated by the animal and reluctant to leave. As he departed, I heard him say wistfully to his mother, "That's the kind of a dog I wish I could have!"

Medina County pecans must be at their best this year. Several of my Hondo friends have sent us proof from their own trees.

Shelled and delicious they have come from the C. B. GASTONS, the O. A. FLYs and GERTIE (Mrs. Barnitz) CARLE who disregarded the extra calories and sent some of her delicious candied pecans.

A wonderful way to say "Nuts to Sis!"

As I write this, I am thinking of the big band contest in progress at Barry Field today and adding my good wishes via the thought waves. When I heard BILLY HARRELL's students perform under his talented direction for Museum Day last year, I marveled at their showmanship.

I hope they are planning a repeat performance for the '73 celebration and that they'll play loud enough for me to hear it here if I can't be there!

The WALTER (Irene) GRELLs have three granddaughters and two grandsons. The CHARLES (Evelyn) WINKLERs (daughter of the Grells) have three small daughters of their own, the youngest of whom is JULIE ANN, now about eight months old.

While I was trying to get the names properly identified, Irene told me that at one time there were three (3) EVELYN WINKLERs in Hondo.

No wonder some of us Hondo "transplants" sometimes have such a hard time deciding who's who and why.

When I first moved to Hondo (1961) Mr. HUGO SCHWEERS, who was then one of the "greeters" on duty every Sunday at our church, told me not to worry about Medina County names. "It will be perfectly safe," he assured me, "for you to call folks Schweers, Saathoff, Tschirhart, Graff, Balzen, Brucks and such. If that isn't their name now, it was once or will be someday!"

During the days of the now almost forgotten San Antonio Fair, honey was among the products exhibited and some of the choice honey came from Medina County.

This newspaper reported, in 1907, "Excessive rains made this not a very good season for honey. Even cotton patch blooms made good 'bee pasture'.

I thought that "a bee is a bee is a bee" but learned that bees have "brand" names too and, in those days, they included Caucasian, Cyprian, Holy Land, Black Land, 3-banded Italians and many others. Vinegar was one of the by-products of honey, made by diluting it with distilled water and allowing it to "harden".

On the above sweetly-sour information, this week's column ends. Happy Thanksgiving!

Harold Moehring demonstrates conservation at work

By Darwin Schrader, Range Conservationist, SCS

Occasionally, one of our landowners does an outstanding job of bringing back the soil in the Medina Valley Soil Conservation District. This story in short, is one of these cases where a landowner makes a successful venture in Soil and Water Conservation practices.

Harold Moehring owns 117 acres, 5 miles south of Hondo. In June of 1971, Harold contacted the Soil Conservation Service for technical assistance in increasing the forage resources of the farm. At that time the farm consisted of 28 acres of old cropland and 89 acres of mesquite, whitebrush, blackbrush and Guajillo. Approximately 15 acres is soil too shallow and rocky to be rootplowed. At this time the farm was producing forage for 5 animal units.

In July and August of 1971 rootplowing and root-raking was done on 75 acres. Part of this was in a creek bottom. At the time this area was rootplowed the creek banks were sloped. The freshly rootplowed land was loose and bare when the flood waters rushed down the creek on Aug. 13 and 14th, taking off the topsoil. In places the soil was washed away to the depth it was plowed.

The land was smoothed again and the creek and other areas needing dense vegetation cover was sprigged to Coastal Bermudagrass.

In October of 1971, about 14 acres was seeded with Wintergreen Hardinggrass. In March of 1972 the 31 acre field was seeded with Gordo bluestem and about 35 acres of the rootplowed land was seeded to Kleingrass. The farm did not receive any significant amounts of rainfall until May 1972. The rainfall brought up the grass but it also caused weed seed to germinate to bring up a bumper crop of weeds. The weeds were controlled by the use of herbicides and shredding.

Fences have been constructed so that each of the four different kinds of grasses are in separate pastures. Harold realizes that this is the only way that the grass can be managed to obtain the full potential of production of the different grasses, and still meet the needs of the grass and soil.

The four species of grass, Coastal bermudagrass, Gordo bluestem, Kleingrass and Wintergreen Hardinggrass produce their maximum amount of forage at different times of the year, produce seed at different seasons, differ in their needs for fertilization and differ a great deal in palatability to livestock.

Water for the livestock has been provided by the use of pipelines and water troughs.

Moehring is doing an excellent job of managing the grasses. He is justly proud of the results he has obtained. He has converted a piece of land that grew forage for 5 animals into land that will produce enough forage for approximately 35 animals, year long. A seven-fold increase in production.

Harold is quick to point out that this has been accomplished in only 17 months and at a cost of $60 per acre.

Moehring has been amazed at the rapid growth rate of Kleingrass. The first seedlings appeared after rainfall in May and seed heads were numerous by the first of August. Approximately 50 pounds of seed per acre was harvested from the Kleingrass the first of September.

Harold is justly proud of the results of his conservation work and is always glad for people to stop at his farm and look at the grass.

Antlers indicate health

Deer season is good source material for all kinds of arguments.

One of the most hotly-contested disputes usually ensues after Hunter A tells his pal B that he saw an 8-point buck that must have been several years old, along with some "yearlings", or spikes.

Hunter B points out that just because a buck has 8 points doesn't mean he's more than a yearling.

Hunter A retalliates by saying that of course it does, and everybody knows that the larger antlers a buck has, the older he is. And so on.

According to range biologists, Hunter B may be right. New evidence is turning up that while antler size is a good indicator for judging health, it may have little relation to a buck's age.

A white-tailed deer which had poor nourishment as a fawn will develop into a spike buck, or else one with short, undeveloped forked antlers after a year of maturity.

A well-fed buck might develop into an eight-point-er in one year.

Therefore, say biologists, it's a mistake to protect spike bucks from hunting pressure. When spikes are protected and the bigger bucks killed, the better brood stock is being eliminated, and the inferior animals left, they point out.

In a recent nine-county survey in East and Central Texas, biologists examined more than 1,800 buck deer. Three fourths of the deer were yearlings—but only 291 were spikes.

(Biologists consider an 18-month old deer a yearling.)

The spikes' average weight was only 64.5 pounds, compared to 72.6 pounds average for the bucks with more than two points.

Spike bucks probably would occur rarely under ideal range conditions. This was apparent during a survey held on the Engeling Wildlife Management Area in East Texas last fall.

A public hunt yielded a total of 60 yearlings, but none of these were spikes.

The evidence suggests that when spikes are seen it may be time to consider range improvement or a heavier deer harvest to improve the herd's quality, not protection for spikes.

No eight point yearlings? Don't bet on it.

Here in Hondo

Mrs. Steve Hartmann and little son, Edward, of College Station, have been the house guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Braden for several days. They will be joined by Mr. Hartmann on Wednesday and will spend Thanksgiving holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hartmann of San Antonio.

End season on winning note

Owls blast Dilley 22-6

It was no kind of night to end a football season. A chill wind and an obscuring mist made the Dilley-Hondo football game an exercise in discomfort for the stout-hearted fans who drove the 50-plus miles to Dilley.

But in the end, the game was more exciting than could ever have been expected, and the Owls had no easy time beating the Wolves 22-6.

Scoring came slowly in the contest during the first half. The Owls, surprised by the stubborn Dilley defense, were forced to punt five times in the half. Two of those were partially blocked, and the Wolves had several good breaks.

But the Wolves could do no better than Hondo during the half, either. They never penetrated the Owl 30.

The game's first score came on a 30-yard pass from Brian Finger to Gene McAn-elly with only 35 seconds left in the half. The two-point conversion pass fell incomplete, and Hondo held a precarious 6-0 halftime lead.

After the break, the Wolves seemed to come alive. The Owls played only four downs in this period as Dilley ate up the clock on a powerful 89-yard scoring drive. The surprising show of power was capped off by a six-yard run by John Moore. Again the point-after was no good, and it was a 6-6 tie seven seconds into the final quarter.

The Owls then led a drive of their own, behind the running of Keith Ligon and full-back Mark Buescher, subbing for Tony Hackebell.

From the Owl 33 they drove, but the effort was threatened as Dilley toughened at their own 23. With third down and seven to go, Ligon turned in his only long run of the night, going all 23 yards to the score. Ligon added two more points on his extra point run, and the Hondo lead was back 14-6.

The stopper was put on the contest late in the quarter as Dilley seemingly held Hondo on their own nine-yard line. A penalty on an in-completion by Finger sent the ball to the 25, from which it was a fourth down and an impossible 20 yards to go.

But Finger took matters into his own hands, and scrambled exactly 21 yards, down to the Dilley four and a first down.

Two plays later, Buescher took the ball in for a touchdown. The two-point conversion pass was good, and the winning margin stood at 22-6 with 1:42 left in the game.

Basketball begins

Basketball practice began for Hondo High School students on Monday, November 20, announced Coach Dan Keath.

The first game scheduled for the Owl round-ball team is on November 28 against Bandera.

Thus, the sport scene at Hondo High School will not lie idle for long following last Friday's closing football game against Dilley.

Hondo closed out last year's season a game behind District-winner Pearsall.

The Owls will open their 1972-73 basketball season on November 28 as they go to Bandera. District play will begin on December 29 as the Owls entertain Cotulla.

28-AA Action

The big news in the district Friday night was made over in Devine, where the Warhorses put on a brilliant second half rally to down Pearsall 14-8 for the District Championship. Pearsall took an 8-0 lead into the showerhouse for the halftime break, but Devine played their whole game in the last two quarters.

Hondo ran up a 5-2 district tally by defeating newcomer Dilley 22-6 in a battle that was not as easy as that score indicates.

Medina Valley pounded Cotulla 28-0 to provide a strong conclusion to their season.

Devine will meet Randolph High School's Ro-Hawks on Barry Field Friday evening at 8.

TRYING TO WARM UP

in the late fall chill in Dilley, Owls go through their pre-game calisthenics. This is the last time out for Fred Bader (55) and other Seniors on the team.

Cowboys down Angoras; meet Chilton Saturday

The D'Hanis Cowboys captured the championship of District 14-B by defeating the Rocksprings Angoras 14-8 last Saturday night in D'Hanis.

The win enables D'Hanis to represent District 14-B in playoffs beginning next Saturday night in San Marcos against Chilton.

The Cowboys scored twice in the second stanza on runs by Bobby Joe Rothe. David Santos kicked both extra points and the halftime score was 14-0. But in the third quarter, Mark Ivy of the Angoras scored a touchdown to put the Angoras back in the ballgame.

A two-point conversion pass from Joe Connell to Ramirez in the end zone made the score 14-8.

While the score didn't change in the final quarter, the Cowboys repeatedly were pushed back deep in their own territory, but the D'Hanis defense proved impenetrable.

At one point they held at the one-yard line on a fourth down play by the Angoras, and the ball went over on downs.

The bi-district game will be played in San Marcos at University Stadium Saturday night, November 25, at 8 p.m.

Admission for the game will be $2 for adults and 75¢ for students. No advance tickets will be sold.

Kebo wraps up super season

Keith Ligon closed out his high school football career on a successful note last Friday in Dilley as he carried for 95 yards and a touchdown.

The game only added to the remarkable record he has amassed during his days as an Owl.

Kebo is sought by more than 40 colleges and universities in the United States, including every major school in the country, and probably holds the additional record of being the most sought-after Hondo football player ever.

Part of the record that brought about his prominence in schoolboy football can be found in his statistics for the 1972 season alone.

Ligon put together just over two thousand yards of offense for the year, when half of that total would be a banner year for most players.

He scored a total of 149 points for the Owls, including 24 touchdowns and five extra points.

The 210-pound six-footer has carried 251 times for 1678 yards rushing, an average of 6.7 yards per carry.

Ligon has achieved a great football career and has kept the friendship and respect of his fellow players and opponents in the bargain. Quite a feat.

All this has been accomplished by Ligon not as a one-man football team, but as an important part of an eleven-man effort, and no one would say this quicker than Keith. He has achieved a great football career and has kept the friendship and respect of his fellow players and opponents in the bargain. Quite a feat.

Bix approaches first anniversary

Stanley Craig has operated his furniture repair and refinishing shop in Castroville exactly one year as of the first of September.

During that year in Castroville, he has brought new life to old and used furniture by applying a triple layer finish made by the famous Bix Company.

Although he and his wife Velma make their home in Sabin, Stanley drives daily to Castroville to open his shop. He was previously located in Lytle.

All refinishing work is done by hand with the exception of some sanding, which he does expertly using an electric sander.

For do-it-yourselfers, Craig's supply includes Bix stains, finishes, and strippers. He holds a franchise for Bix products which stretches over five counties.
